LIST OF FIGURES*

SECTION I

SECTION II

Figure 2.1 Timeline for Application Servers (From a Telecom Perspective) ............ 10
Figure 2.2 A Basic IMS Model .................................................................................. 11

SECTION III

Figure 3.1 Applications Mentioned by Vendors as IMS Services ............................. 14
Figure 3.2 Applications Enablers Cited by Vendors ................................................. 15
Figure 3.3 Purchasing Differentiators in the IMS Application Server Market............ 23
Figure 3.4 Who Does What in IMS Application Servers ........................................... 25

SECTION IV

Figure 4.1 Alcatel's Application Servers in Context .................................................. 29
Figure 4.2 Cisco's IMS Proposition in Context.......................................................... 30

SECTION V

Figure 5.1 BEA WebLogic SIP Server in Context..................................................... 51
Figure 5.2 IBM's Application Server Proposition....................................................... 59
Figure 5.3 jNetX Product Positioning........................................................................ 64
Figure 5.4 Microsoft's Positioning............................................................................. 67
Figure 5.5 Oracle Proposition in Context.................................................................. 71
Figure 5.6 Ubiquity's Positioning in Context ............................................................. 82

* All charts and figures in this report are original to Heavy Reading, unless otherwise noted.